SCIENCE DEPARTMENT SYMPOSIUM

"Before I presented, I was very nervous because I was one of the last one's to go. After a while though, my nerves were relaxed and I was ready to present. During my presentation, I felt relaxed and was happy I finally went. After I presented, I was very satisfied with myself and content with what I had done."

Gabrielle Graniela

9th grade Honors Biology

1st Place Winner Top Award for the School

"I believe that waiting to present my work was much more nerve-racking then actually presenting. When it was finally my turn to go, the stress slowly went away. I was still a bit nervous and stuttered on a few sections, but it was still an enjoyable experience."

Christian Ghoubril

9th grade Honors Biology

1st Place Winner Underclassmen

"It was fun being in the symposium, learning about different topics including dreams, hearing loops, the big bang theory, dyslexia and more. I enjoyed presenting Porphyria and educating the audience with it."

Priya Paray

2nd Place Award Underclassmen
